Provisional Camping

What is Provisional

The Provisional program is designed to provide Scouts with the opportunity to attend Roosevelt without their troop. This program is great for any Scout who had such a great time with his troop that he wants to return for an additional week, or a boy who wants to attend Roosevelt even though his troop will not be attending. For this program, the camp provides a full time Scoutmaster and Assistant Scoutmaster to ensure proper supervision.

Upon arrival at camp, Scouts are organized into patrols and elect a Senior Patrol Leader. In the troop setting, Scouts work to attain their goals for the week. The troop participates in all camp-wide activities and even provides some special troop activities in the Provisional campsite – just like a real troop! In recent summers, our Provisional troop has been very successful in inter-troop competitions and individual scout awards and recognitions. Pro-V, as Provisional is often referred to as, needs more enthusiastic Scouts to help continue its streak of success.
